DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-20, 22, and 23, drawn to a method of signal transmission in a communication system, comprising: transmitting an optical beam through a modulator adapted to: have a peak of light transmission at a first voltage; substantially block light transmission at a second voltage greater than the first voltage; and have another peak of light transmission at a third voltage greater than the second voltage; and driving the modulator with an electrical signal having two or more levels, wherein: a first level is outside of a voltage range between the first and third voltages; and a second level is either inside the voltage range between the first and third voltages or outside of said voltage range on the opposite side from the first level, classified in class 398, subclass 183.
  - II. Claim 21, drawn to a method of signal transmission in a communication system, comprising: modulating an optical beam with data using a modulator; transmitting the modulated beam to a receiver via a communication link subjecting said beam to bandpass filtering, wherein the modulator is overdriven to introduce a phase shift between optical symbols in the modulated beam such that, at the receiver, inter-symbol interference caused by the bandpass filtering is reduced, classified in class 398, subclass 201.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the limitations of claim 21 – such as modulating, bandpass filtering, and overdriving the modulator, do not require the limitations of claim 1 – e.g., a modulator adapted to have peak of light transmission at a first voltage, substantially block light transmission at a second voltage greater than the first voltage, etc. The subcombination has separate utility such as being used in a general transmission scheme to bandpass filter wavelengths to provide channel isolation.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
